

RUSH TROOPS TO FIGHT ZONE

Continual Roar Along Entire Front MARTIAL LAW TO FOLLOW TROOPS ARRIVAL IN W. VA.

LOGAN, W. Va., Sept. 2.—After a morning of uncertainty, in which reports from Sprucefork ridge had told of sporadic fighting since day break, it was officially announced at noon that "heavy firing" was taking place at Blair mountain, Mt. Creek and Crooke Creek.

Colonel Eubanks said that one Logan man had been wounded on Blair mountain and that five of the opposing forces had been seen to fall.

Airplanes reconnoitering over Boone county east of the ridge reported increased activity among the armed bands which have assembled there, while a courier from "the front" said it was one "continual roar along the entire line."

These reports, which had the official sanction of the civil and military commanders here, indicated the heaviest fighting since the line was established along Sprucefork ridge and efforts were made by the Logan county authorities to stop what they termed an "invasion" of their county.

They said that new men had been sent into the line which now was about 20 miles in length and that these men were fresh and amply provided with ammunition and provisions.

Reinforcements continued to reach Logan from the southern part of the state, the latest arrivals today being a party of Mingo men, who came by rail from Williamson.

In addition to their rifles and pistols, they brought with them automatic rifles and machine guns.

The county town of Logan, widely stirred by the intense "military" activity, went about the business of carrying on the "campaign on the ridge" with calm assurance. Few comments were heard when it became known that federal troops were on their way.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 2.—Federal troops from four camps, numbering approximately four thousand men, were late today either en route or in readiness to move to West Virginia to enforce the decision of the federal government to restore order in the coal fields.

Orders for the movement of the troops were issued early in the day by Major General Harbord, assistant chief of staff, on recommendation of Brigadier General Bandholtz, representative of the war department in the disturbed area. A few hours later the war department was advised that the twenty-sixth infantry had left its station at Camp Dix, New Jersey, and that the nine-seventh infantry was en route from Camp Sherman, Ohio, to the coal fields.

Shortly after this movement had gotten under way, two companies left Fort Thomas, Kentucky, and the fortieth infantry began en route at Camp Rixey, Kentucky. Another regiment, the sixteenth, was ready in reserve at Camp Dix to move immediately on receipt of orders.

Army officers directing and observing the movement pointed to it as fully justifying the declaration made several days ago by Secretary Weeks that should action by the federal government in West Virginia be decided on, it would be "no child's play." Secretary Weeks was optimistic over the situation, expressing the belief that as soon as the federal troops reached the disturbed area the armed bands responsible for the disorders would voluntarily disperse.

Meanwhile, the second step contemplated by the federal government—the declaration of martial law in five West Virginia counties—was deferred pending arrival of the troops at their destinations. It was indicated that the presidential proclamation declaring the rule of the military to be supreme, already drafted and signed, would not be issued until sufficient forces had arrived in the five counties to enforce that rule.

Secretary Weeks gave the West Virginia situation his entire attention, reaching his office early in the day and leaving it only to attend the regular Friday cabinet meeting, at which it was understood the matter was discussed.

General Bandholtz's message sent shortly after midnight, on which the troop movement was ordered, was given out by the war department as follows:

"Investigators returned about 11:30 tonight. The invaders have not obeyed the president's proclamation and there is no apparent intention to do so. It is therefore recommended that the troops now held in readiness be sent to West Virginia without delay."

An earlier communication from General Bandholtz said:

"It is believed that the withdrawal of the invaders as promised by Keeney and Mooney (respectively president and vice president of the district miners' union) would have been satisfactorily achieved, but for the tardy sending of trains and particularly but for the ill advised and ill timed advance movement of state constabulary on the night of August 27 resulting in bloodshed."

Kitchen In Petrograd To Feed Children

PARIS, September 2.—The first kitchen for the free feeding of children was established in Petrograd today by the American Relief Administration.

Walter L. Brown, European director of the administration, said in making this announcement that another kitchen would be opened in Moscow in a few days and that two administration steamers had arrived in Petrograd with cargoes of food.

The American Relief Administration representatives left Moscow today for the Volga region. They were John Gregg of Portland, Oregon, and William Shaffroth of Denver, Colorado. Mr. Brown received a telegram this morning from Gregg and Shaffroth saying the soviet government had turned over excellent officers to the administration in Moscow and had placed a warehouse having a capacity of 10,000 tons at its disposal.

Play Prominent Roles In Mine Battles

First pictures from the West Virginia mine war area showing miners (above) being urged by mine union leaders to go home, and deputy sheriffs (below) starting out to meet the miners' "army," which was ordered by President Harding to disperse and go home. The top picture was taken at Madison, while the miners were being addressed at a mass meeting by C. Frank Keeney, district union president, who urged the men to go home.

Secretary of War Weeks and General Bandholtz, stopped at the White House, where they conferred with President Harding on the West Virginia mine war. Bandholtz had just returned from his first trip of investigation in West Virginia and his report led to the president's order to the miners' "army" to disperse and go home. Bandholtz's second trip to West Virginia resulted in him recommending that "troops be sent at once." Secretary Weeks immediately ordered three regiments of infantry there.

Miners Using C. & O. Train

MADISON, W. VA., September 2.—A Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad train, which the armed forces around Blair have been using since regular service on Little Coal river branch was stopped, passed through Madison this morning bound for Whitesville, a mining village on the Wyoming county border. In one car, it was stated, were the bodies of a number of Whitesville men who had fallen in the fighting on Blair mountain.

A physician reported that he had treated two men who reached Madison during the night from the vicinity of Blair. One had a gun shot wound in the arm and the other said he had fallen over a cliff in the mountains.

According to reports reaching the authorities here there was another brush on Blair mountain this morning. The firing continued for almost an hour. If there were casualties they were not reported.

Persons in possession of information from what they termed "the front" refused to talk for publication.

"I must not be quoted," said one physician, "it would get me in wrong."

Dr. Harless, of Clotiler, has been placed in charge of a temporary hospital established at Blair for the wounded brought there in the skirmishing in the mountains this week, according to reports reaching here today. Other physicians have been summoned to his assistance, although it was stated that none had been called from Madison, which is about 12 miles away.

Men Paid No Attention To Requests

CHARLESTON, W. VA., September 2.—The recommendation that federal troops be sent into the disturbed area of West Virginia having been granted by the war department, Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, who will be in command, busied himself today working out the details of placing the soldiers at strategic points.

General Bandholtz opened headquarters in the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone company building, taking an entire floor.

Extra telephones were installed and every facility was provided to keep in direct touch with the disturbed counties and with Washington.

No official information had been received early in the day from Boone and Logan counties by the military authorities as to the situation there. Federal military headquarters, it was said, were not worried about the situation at the moment, but were concentrating all efforts to get the troops in quickly.

"We are going right in and swamping the disorderly elements," said a high military authority today.

Telephone reports from Madison were to the effect that all were communicating to the so-called front, but that no one was coming out of the front and that more men were still going through Madison to join those opposing the peace officers at the county line.

General Bandholtz said he had made his mind up finally to act when he received a report from members of his staff late last night. Late yesterday afternoon a letter was despatched to the Boone-Logan line from Governor Morgan assuring the armed men assembled there they would not be molested by state or county authorities if they dispersed and returned to their homes. This communication was accompanied by one from General Bandholtz to the effect that the governor had assured him there would be no molestation.

"No attention was paid to them," said the general, "and when my report came back to me at 11:30 last night, I acted on their report."

Killed Because He Wouldn't Join Union

The body of Wladyslaw Barcola, a miner, was brought to a Charleston undertaking establishment today. A brother, who brought the body here, was authority for the statement that he had been killed at his home in Blair, Boone county, because he refused to join the union.

Violence President William Petry, District 17 United Mine Workers, said that he had no news from the front, and had no information about casualties there. He also said that, Frank Keeney, president of the district organization, and Fred Mooney, secretary-treasurer, had not been at headquarters for several days.

Women And Children Flee Zone

ST. ALBANS, W. VA., September 2.—Women and children from the Little Coal river country, where armed bands have gathered along the eastern slope of Sprucefork ridge, have arrived here in large numbers and are quartered in hotels and with private families.

Many of them are the families of business and professional men, although some are the wives and children of miners. The authorities here believed that if it were possible for them to get through many other women and children from the mining villages would make their way to St. Albans until their home region had become normal.

As on yesterday, no trains were running on the Little Coal river branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and the station agent here said that all the wires along the line had been cut. The signal system also was out of commission, he said.

Armed Bands Strengthened

When traffic was suspended, the locomotives, a string of freight cars and a complete passenger train were in the vicinity of the mining towns, where the men were congregating.

Many stories are heard here from the people who have come from the mining country regarding the situation there when they left. They tell

Irish Leaders Want To Get Best Terms

DUBLIN, Sept. 2.—Sinn Fein leaders today awaited publication of the note sent to Prime Minister Lloyd George yesterday by Eamonn DeValera and his colleagues in the Irish republican government. Mr. Lloyd George is spending a brief vacation at Gairloch, Scotland, and it was announced that nothing relative to the Sinn Fein reply to the prime minister's note concerning the settlement of the Irish question would be given out here until it was known it was in Mr. Lloyd George's hands.

It was believed, however, that the Sinn Fein leaders did not discuss with the prime minister any of the points of his latest note, with the exception of the final clause, in which further negotiations were suggested. There is evident a desire on the part of men high in the councils republican movement to develop further the conditions upon which dominion status would be granted Ireland and there appears to be a disposition to consider favorable some features of the prime minister's terms.

of the constant arrival of bands of men from many parts of southern and central West Virginia, all of them armed. It is also related that all work in the region has been abandoned while business is at a standstill.

Reports reaching here this morning said that physicians from the towns around Blair had been summoned to that place where a temporary hospital has been opened for the wounded in the fighting along Sprucefork ridge.

Spasmodic Firing During night

LOGAN, W. VA., Sept. 2.—Reports from Sprucefork ridge, told of spasmodic firing on either side during the night.

Three prisoners taken by patrols and brought here last night were locked in the county jail, where an hour before a fatal shooting had occurred.

While being transferred from one cell to another, Paul Cominsky, arrested at Ethel yesterday charged with being a suspicious person, attacked Jailer W. E. White, whereupon, the officer stated, he shot and killed him.

UNEMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE IS TO GET CONGRESS EMPLOYED

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The underlying purpose of the unemployment conference called by President Harding is to get congress employed. The administration realized that unless the Republican majority gets busy and passes the legislation which is needed to stimulate business throughout the country the number of jobless folk will increase instead of diminish this winter and the congressional elections next fall may develop considerable danger for the party in power.

For Psychological Effect

Congress is taking a vacation at present and the administration reluctantly consented to the recess. But fixing the time of payments the allies will be able to calculate upon the amounts they must set aside every year toward the payment of the debt and when the allied governments begin to finance themselves on a definite basis the value of their currency will increase and international exchange, which is the basis of all trade, will tend to become equalized. With exchange improved the purchasing power of Europe will gradually return. Once the purchasing power of Europe is restored, American surplus goods can be exported and the firms which have closed down their factories will want to reopen them so as to supply Europe.

Indeed the international bankers who have favored the league of nations and American cooperation with Europe in matters of finance have argued that American factories would never have closed down if two years ago the United States had ratified the Versailles treaty and entered into closer financial relationship with Europe.

When both houses reconvene the calendar of the vital measures which most everybody believes will mean better industrial and business conditions. Few officials can be found who think

SIMMS TELLS OF VISIT TO DR. SUN

By WM. PHILIP SIMMS

Written Expressly for the N. E. A.

CANTON, China, Sept. 2.—This is the story of a story—of an interview with Dr. Sun Yat-sen, president of the Republic of Canton and of China—providing he can make the Foreign Powers see in the same way he does.

From the Shumoen, an island in the Pearl River, where, in common with other foreigners, I made my base, I made the journey across Canton by chair. Three almost naked coolies carried it, the distance being about four miles. The streets so narrow that when coolies were turned the leading coolie sometimes was forced to enter the open front of a native shop to allow the bear bringing up with the rear to swing into the thoroughfare.

Now and then the sides of the sedan scraped the very walls while the jam of pedestrians brushed past edgewise in the few inches of free space left them. Chinese shops of every imaginable variety bordered the way and odors of just as wide a range assailed the nose.

Sentries on Guard.

It took some 50 minutes to make the distance. It could have been done in less but for the crowds.

Presently the coolies emerged from the man-made jungle into a new, wide avenue. In front of me was a great gate in a high wall—a fancy gate like one seen in a Chinese picture and with colors in it like Korean Cloisonne. Before it, on either side, stood a sentry—the first of a series guarding the seat of the Military Government of Canton.

For this was it—the headquarters of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's government.

The buildings were none of them more than two stories high. They covered an area large as a city square. The walls were whitewashed and the roofs were of a deep brown—almost black—tile.

Through the fancy gate the coolies headed at a dog-trot, the sentries paying little attention to us as we went by.

Occidental Oriental

Ahead of me was a long vista of covered walk with narrow, white-walled barrack-like buildings crossing it about every 150 feet. The walk went right on through the buildings, emerging each time into a courtyard where tropical trees grew high and let fall a very grateful shadow on the greenness of green lawns. An odor of jasmine, sweetest of all flowers to those who love the heavy perfumes of southern climes, filled the place.

After crossing two courts and passing through two of these cross-buildings, the coolies sat me down. I stopped out.

"Wait see somebody," said a pleasant voice behind me.

The speaker was a Chinese, but so accidentally mannered and dressed that it required two looks to be sure. He might have been an American business man, a Middle Westerner at that.

"Dr. Sun, please!"

I asked to see Mr. Qun Tai-chi, formerly of Columbia University, now high up in the Foreign Office under Dr. Sun Yat-sen.

Mr. Qun, it was agreed, was to arrange my interview with the Canton president.

"He is in Shanghai," the Occidental Oriental replied in perfect English.

There was a pretty howdy-do! I had come a long way to get the interview and the man who was to introduce me had been suddenly called away. Something, though, had to be done. I took on a cat.

"Dr. Sun, then," I said, quite as if he were my buddy.

The Middle Western-looking Chinese took the hint and turned to an attendant dressed in hot-country khaki and said something in the vernacular. The attendant motioned to me to follow, which I did, down the walk. He opened a door into the left wing of the next transverse.

Lilies and Marigolds

The room I now found myself in was about 60 feet long by 40 wide. The walls were of vertical planks painted white. From the ceiling hung electric light wires at the ends of which were solitary bulbs. A very inexpensive four-light "chandelier" was suspended in the center over a table covered with a red felt cloth. Eight chairs, with white cotton coverings, stood about this table. On it, in the center, stood a vase of rose-scented glass, shaped like a lily, and in the vase several lilies of the "Easter" variety, and some marigolds.

Three grated windows on the two sides let in the air and afforded a glimpse at the green, smoky courtyard outside. On the floor were strips of ordinary matting and about the walls were chairs like those at the table, some tea tables and an occasional high stand like those in any furniture store in any town in American-held big pots and flowers.

Tea Served

I was asked to wait a moment. I sat down near a window. A minute later the door opened and another attendant, dressed like the first, came in, which I did, down the walk. He opened a door into the left wing of the next transverse.

"HORSESHOE" DAVIS IS REAL EXPERT

Before a crowd of nearly 1000, C. Davis the world's champion horse shoe pitcher of Columbus gave an exhibition last night that easily satisfied the big crowd who he carried off the title. Mr. Davis' pitching was beyond expectation, his pitching of finger after finger bringing much applause from the big crowd. His exhibition of fancy pitching also won much praise from the horse-shoe pitching fans. The only local pitcher who made a favorable showing against the champion were Norman Kitchen and Ben Cross.

Other local men took the champion on for one or two games, but they did not have a chance, not getting over 1 or 2 points in each game.

In his first game Davis had seven points against Kitchen but did not win. In the second game he and Kitchen came back in the third and made ten points. Kitchen lost three games, 21-3, 21-10 and 21-1.

Davis then gave his exhibition of fancy pitching including the pitch-shoot until last Wednesday night when he pitched a perfect game.

He showed that he could place his the shoes where he wanted them in nearly every instance. Not every man did he throw four out of four fingers but in pitching two shoes he never missed putting on one finger. Doll, Reaney, Sparks, Kovars, Milson, Swickert and Cross also met the champion after he offered to give a pair of his specially made horse-shoes to anyone making ten points against him. Cross came the closest getting 8 points in one game. The majority of the others did not score against the champion.

209 Graduates Receive Certificates

Two hundred and nine graduates of the eighth grades in the rural schools of Scioto county received their certificates of promotion this morning at the morning session of the annual Scioto County Teachers' Institute held at Glenwood high school, New Boston. This is the largest class of eighth grade graduates to leave the Scioto county rural schools and the large number an increase over the previous years is an indication that school work in the rural communities is not lacking in interest. This coming term is expected to produce still a larger class for next summer's commencement exercises.

The commencement exercises took up the entire morning session. Prof. E. O. McQueen, county school superintendent, welcomed the students and introduced the speaker of the morning.

The commencement exercises took up the entire morning session. Prof. E. O. McQueen, county school superintendent, welcomed the students and introduced the speaker of the morning.

Prof. J. H. Finney who is well known throughout Scioto county school districts. Prof. Finney told the students that by going through the grammar schools, high school and college one had a much better chance for success. He stressed the importance of education in one's life and urged all to gain all education possible and not to let any chance at education slip by. He also mentioned the influence environment has on a young person's life. Mr. Finney also urged the students to always hold an optimistic view of things to obtain their goal.

This afternoon's session was a short one and was given over to the presentation of the teachers' certificates of attendance at the institute. Prof. McQueen presented the certificates. The institute which was a big success came to a close this afternoon with the election of officers and selection of next year's place of meeting.

The Thursday afternoon session was a most interesting one. Several selections were given by Woods brothers on a trombone and cornet. Prof. McCowen gave a short explanatory talk on the Compulsory School Attendance Law and Prof. B. H. Scudder talked on the early life of James Whitecomb Riley.

Prof. Freeman in his last address of the institute had for his subject: "What America Owe to the Public Schools."

Prof. Freeman of Ohio Northern and Prof. Scudder of Miami University left last night for their homes after lecturing four days at the institute.

Increase Is Shown

Postal receipts, a good barometer to business conditions, continue to show substantial increases, according to Postmaster Valter Harold. The receipts for July were $1,400 larger than July of last year.

Is Transferred

Clarence Lynch, who has been employed in the local branch of the Postal Telegraph Company, has been transferred to Cincinnati.

Seriously Ill

James Duncan, of Eleventh street, is seriously ill with heart trouble.

Team To Be Idle

Gabe's All Stars will be idle Sunday and Monday, and the players will probably play with other local teams on those days. Manager Caldwell did not look any Labor Day game as he did not want the Labor Day outing of Central Labor Council and the big things at Coney Island to have any opposition.

Short Session

Only a short business session was held by the Eagles last night on account of the renovation of their hall. Improvements costing $8,000 are being made in the building, the work to be completed about the last of next week.

Light Practice

The Selects football team went through a light practice on the Sixteenth street lot Thursday evening. The team will be composed of players of experience and Portsmouth is sure to be as well represented by a Selects football eleven as she is a basketball five under the same name. The Selects will practice hard from now on to the time of their opening game. They have a stiff schedule already arranged and will meet some of the best gridiron aggregations in the state before the season closes. There will be another practice session at 6 this evening.

School Shoes for Your Boy—Your Girl

CHILDREN always seem to need a new pair of shoes. At this time, especially, when school is about to open, new shoes may be a necessity. You want to buy shoes which will wear, at the lowest possible price. They must be comfortable, too, and neat.

E-J School Shoes are built for wear. They withstand the hard knocks of play, and still look neat enough for school. So well-known are the wearing qualities of E-J School Shoes that Endicott-Johnson factories are running at capacity production, turning out thousands of pairs every day, and are unable to keep up with the demand.

Because they make so many, there is a style that just suits the needs of your boy or your girl, little or big. Plenty of room for their growing feet to spread out, in an Endicott-Johnson School Shoe.

Your retail shoe dealer will gladly show you the different grades of these shoes, so that you can choose just the pair that fits your purse.

Oriental Dancer Eludes Pastor and Policeman

The Times Star this morning said: Police and Newport clergymen and church members with warrants watched in vain, Wednesday night, for "Miss Marie," billed as an Oriental dancer, and her manager, who is named as "John Doe." But the fair dancer did not appear, and the belly-dancing voice of the manager and the troupe were not heard again in Newport. According to the Rev. E. R. Overley, pastor of Grace M. E. church, who headed the squad of investigators, "Miss Marie" was the main attraction in a show which travels with a circus. In the warrant against "John Doe, manager," it is further charged that he permitted an objectionable dance. The dancer is charged with "selling pictures" to patrons of the sidewalk. The Rev. Mr. Overley said he received a complaint from Portsmouth, O., where the fair dancer is said to have performed.

COURT HOUSE

McFarland Lands Job

The contest for the appointment of a night watchman at the Court House to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of William Price was practically settled Friday when it was announced that the commissioners had selected Arthur McFarland, former well known colored city patrolman, for the job, subject to the approval of the state civil service commission.

There were originally nearly a score of applicants for the job but all were gradually eliminated one by one except McFarland and Joseph Crenshaw, prominent colored politician of the North End. Coming down to make a selection between the two, the board decided to cast its lot with McFarland and therein lies a clue as to the action taken has aroused the ire of Crenshaw and his friends and rumblings of a political upheaval in colored political circles in the North End are being heard.

Crenshaw on learning that he had lost out gave vent to his disappointment in failing to land the position, claiming that it had been promised him. He denounced John Fekhart, the gang leader, in no uncertain terms, declaring that the latter had played the card which caused him to lose out and asserted that he had been beautifully "run over, double-crossed and given a raw deal."

The appointment of McFarland will probably be approved early next week when he will enter upon his duties. The position pays $75 a month.

Suit Dismissed

An entry was filed in the office of the clerk of courts Thursday dismissing the divorce and alimony suit of Cora McKenzie, who has been residing at the St. John hotel, 423 Third street, against Walter McKenzie, Washington township farmer. The couple amicably adjusted their difficulties and have resumed their duties. The suit was filed through Attorney W. L. Hostetter.

See Co Notes

Andrew J. Bryant of Franklin avenue, is made defendant in two suits filed in Municipal court, Friday, one by Arthur F. Young, who seeks to recover $75 alleged to be due on a promissory note with interest from April 27, 1921, and the other Edward Young asks judgment for $40 on a promissory note. Mary F. Bryant is made party defendant in the latter suit. The suits were filed through Attorney W. L. Hostetter.

Harwood Sworn In

Arthur Harwood was sworn in Friday for his second term as county engineer on which he enters next Monday when at the same time Henry B. Ruel will be inducted into office as county treasurer, succeeding Gilbert F. Dodds and Carl P. married relations, it is said, as recorder.

Seeks Judgment

Judgment for $125 with interest is sought by The Land Office company in a suit filed in Common Pleas court Thursday against John Aeb and Belle Aeb. Through Attorney Miller and Seal the plaintiff says $120 is due on a promissory note and $15 on an account for money advanced.

Decrease In Marriages

There was a decrease of 40 per cent in the number of marriage licenses issued at the probate office during August as compared with the same month in 1920, when the records show 66 couples obtained licenses to wed as against 35 for the month just passed.

The decrease is attributed by officials to the depressed industrial situation which obtains at present rather than any laying down on the job by Cupid.

Probate Judge R. Gilliland spent Friday at Columbus taking in the state fair.

This means that all pupils in the county schools that will use the books mentioned above will not have to buy them in the districts mentioned above that have adopted free text books. This will save hundreds of dollars for the parents this year and the taxpayers of those districts will not have to pay for the books, since said districts are state aid and receive their deficiency each year for their expenses from the State Reserve Fund. This is one of the greatest moves that could be made for more efficient work in the rural schools. EXPECTANT MOTHERS
For Three Generations
Have Made Child-Birth
Easier By Using
MOTHER'S FRIEND

Dear Miss Wise—Have waited several days since reading the shocking assertion you put in your column: "It doesn't hurt a girl's morals to smoke cigarettes," thinking some one would reply to this, but as I have seen no response as yet, here goes what I have to say on the subject.

How could you say such a thing Miss Wise? Aren't our boys and girls going bad fast enough, and don't we poor mothers have hard enough times trying to keep them straight without such encouragement from an influential person like yourself? Where is the mother, and who is the mother that would be willing for her daughter to take on the vulgar, degrading, filthy, idle and injurious habit of cigarette smoking? And furthermore, Miss Wise, just imagine yourself the mother of a young girl, would you be willing for her to take up the habit? And would you say, "daughter, cigarette smoking will not hurt your morals?"

To you think for one moment that a girl who is bold enough to smoke cigarettes would refuse interesting things? And if she drinks, what then? would you put anything immoral beyond her?

Please give us an honest answer to these questions.

We poor, old, tired, worn out, broken hearted mothers appeal to you to please hand out to our dear boys and girls something more religious than "it doesn't hurt girls' morals to smoke cigarettes."

A TIRED MOTHER.
I am not responsible for what appeared in this column during the past few months as I have been on a vacation all summer and did not answer any letters in this department until Monday of this week. I do not approve of anyone smoking cigarettes and certainly would not advise or encourage girls to do so.

Dear Dolly—I have been corresponding with a boy friend in the navy. He was in New York the last time I heard from him. He wrote and told me he was going to Fresno and said he would write just as soon as he got there and I never have heard from him yet. This has been some time ago and could you please tell me how I could find out his address.

TIASZ.
You might mail him a letter to his old address and it will be forwarded to him when he gets settled in San Francisco or wherever he will have his headquarters. If he owes you a letter wait until you hear from him before writing again.

Dear Miss Wise—Please print as soon as possible a recipe for sweet pickles, the kind that won't shiver up.

A READER.
For the pickles, soak in brine made of one cup of salt to two quarts of water for a day and a night. Remove from brine, rinse in cold water.

ONE WHO HAS THE BOOK
Angry—Why don't you tell your friend that you thought she gave you the records for the use of your machine. She may have just wanted to borrow them for awhile. However, I would let her come after them if she wants them.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

ARLINE'S NEW PLANS
After that first meeting Ned and Arline met quite frequently. Now for dinner or again for the theater. She was always at her brightest on these occasions, and becomingly dressed. There was no keeping up with her high spirits.

"A vacation certainly does you a world of good," laughed Ned one night as they were coming out of the theater. Arline had been her most brilliant all during the show and kept him in gales of merriment.

"I feel like sixteen again. It's wonderful just to be happy and young and carefree and with—well, someone like you," she added, "someone who is an old friend."

"I'll say so," answered Ned quickly. This girl always made a fellow feel that he was the whole world. That she was having the best sort of a time just because of being with him. No wonder she was popular with men. They went in for a bite of supper and here again Arline seemed alive and happy. Blushing and forgetful of time, the two sat telling each other of the day's events. Ned had had a letter from home and how much she missed him. With what pride he mentioned this to his companion may be imagined. It was the most loving letter he had received from his wife and Ned had been properly touched.

After all, they were deeply in love. Their little differences could be adjusted. Arline listened to his outburst with smiling lips, although inwardly she was seething. How could she ever hope to fight this? All very well when things went wrong between them, but a letter from home could make Ned so joyful, he must really love her.

Then she spoke of her home lightly. Her father had increased it. She felt that she would like to do something worth while with such an astonishing sum. Arline sink it into some business. She even hinted at

It is doubtful if a more congenial Sunday school class ever gathered about a picnic table than when Mrs. J. J. Randall's class of Bigelow church met at the Rothman camp Thursday afternoon. This class has had many delightful gatherings, but this one seemed to exceed them all. When Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Rardin, who were honor guests, arrived, they were given a cordial greeting and then invited to the summer dining-room, the recessed-in porch, where tables set for twenty-six, and headed to the garden with good things, too numerous to mention, greeted them.

It is said that seeing is believing. But adding the privilege of tasting, convinced those present that a better set of cooks would be hard to find. Later Mesdames Rardin and Ford, in a way, manifested their appreciation by a five-pound box of Price's best candy. Nor were they allowed to leave until two huge watermelons, which were cooling in a tub of water, had served their purpose. Then the four cars received their occupants and returned home, with gratitude in their hearts to Mrs. Rothman for her courtesy, and the use of her camp.

Miss Carrie Pears of 2022 High street entertained with a shinner party Wednesday evening, her guests being Miss Gertrude Hyland of Franklin Furnace, Miss Mary and Stella Ramsey and Miss Edie Reif of Wheelersburg.

Dr. C. E. Bratt of Pittsburgh is visiting his sister, Mrs. Oscar Upp, of 610 John street. Dr. Bratt left Portsmouth in 1917 and this is his first visit back in 20 years. He is amazed at the growth of our city and is looking up his boyhood friends and acquaintances. Dr. Bratt has prospered since leaving in the Sucky City and is looking fine.

Mrs. Mary Herbst has returned to her home in Cincinnati after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Philomena Schwanberger of Grandview avenue, and Mrs. Katharine Glanz of Fourth street.

becoming a future member of Burroughs and Randall? Surely the two would welcome a substantial sum. It would be such fun for her to feel that she was a little bit boss as well as secretary.

At this Ned howled with merriment, called her a baby, and assured her that for her own sake she had better keep far away from the business world, save in her present capacity. It would only cause another good man's heart to ache. He spoke from experience.

The wily Arline said nothing in response to this. Merely smiled and looked away.

It was at this point in their talk a note that an old friend of Cherry's waited into the restaurant with her account. She saw Ned and came smiling up to the table with a radiant smile.

"Well, of all people, Ned Randall, where's Cherry?" as she saw a stranger seated opposite him.

"Too busy to come with me this trip; have her here next, though," he assured Daisy, as he introduced her to Miss Bates. "The two girls nodded, then Daisy excused herself and went back to her own table."

"Dear me, I hope this will not make trouble for you, Ned," burst from Arline as soon as the girl was gone.

"Profound? Why on earth should there be trouble?" asked Ned in astonishment. "Can't two old friends meet by accident and have a bite or a few happy hours together without expecting trouble?"

"I should certainly think so, but you never can tell," answered Arline, looking a little bit mournful.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Chandler, pastor of Bigelow church, and was a very pretty and quiet affair. The bride was attired in a handsome black dress with jet trimmings and wore a large black hat. There were no attendants and only the members of the Long family witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Smith returned to Russell, Ky., last evening, and will spend a few days with home folks, after which they will go to Ruzina, near Lexington, Ky., where a furnished home awaits them. Bigelow Boys Enjoy A Hike

A number of boys of Bigelow Sunday school enjoyed a hike over the Kentucky hills Thursday with L. E. Butler as their leader. The boys made a study of birds and butterflies yesterday. More of these interesting hikes will be held before cold weather sets in for good. The boys left the church at 8:30, each one bringing a good-sized lunch for the all day trip. Plans are being made for several all night hikes to be enjoyed in the near future.

The delegates will be elected next week. Also last night Miffin H. Ogden was elected treasurer and S. Vanfossen, conductor, to fill vacant offices. RIVER NEWS

While the Ohio river registered a pool stage of 12.1 feet in the Portsmouth district Friday morning, yet steamboat traffic between Ravenswood, W. Va., and Cincinnati was practically at a standstill today by reason of the low water in the pools of Dam 23 at Racine, Ohio, and Dam 23 at Maysville, Ky., both of which are nearing completion. It is expected these dams will be ready for operation within the next week or ten days, but navigation will be held up until there is sufficient rainfall to fill the pools. The Steamer Chris Green, which passed up for Huntington early Thursday, was making a fight against odds in an effort to get back to Cincinnati Friday, with the chances regarded as slim for getting through the low water at Maysville.

By reason of the heavy Captain W. F. Kibbie, local wharf master, stopped receiving freight for an indefinite time.

Grocers Beaten

The Retail Grocers nine suffered their second defeat of the season Thursday evening when the fast Standard Supply nine took them into camp by a score of 3 to 2 in nine innings. The game was the thirteenth played this season by the Grocers, who performed like real ball players under the careful direction of manager Ben Stewart, who is proud of the showing his team made against the winners of the Municipal League pennant winners. Neither team scored in the first six frames, but each made a run in the 7th and 8th, the Standards winning out in the 9th, although the game was only scheduled for seven innings.

Chad and Smith formed the battery for the Standards, while Mitten and Riddleberger were in the pits for the Grocers.

Twenty Four Years Ago

Portsmouth took the "rubber" game with the Manufacturers of Cincinnati, the locals finishing on the long end of an 8 to 2 score.

Mr. Joseph Lake went to West Union to act in the capacity as judge of the racing events at the Adams county fair.

John F. Brubaker was drawn to serve as a grand juror in the United States District Court at Cincinnati.

Col. Albert Boone was apparently working up much interest in his Black Diamond railroad project down the river.

Sam Lohberg, an old Portsmouth man, and one of the best sign writers, frescoers and artistic brushmen that ever went out of the old town, returned after an absence of 15 years. He had spent in the far West.

Prof. W. E. A. Orr, of Battle Creek, Mich., was in the city making a personal canvass about town with a view to obtaining himself to the superintendency of the public schools to succeed Dr. Vickers.

The colored citizens held a meeting at Pleasant Green Baptist church to make arrangements for Emancipation Day.

Entertainments were sent out by the ladies in charge of the old school building scheduled for Sept. 18th by Mesdames Farrier and Hanna, Gen. H. Stevenson, Gen. A. V. Rice, Hon. Theo. K. Funk and others to attend and address the gathering.

Miss Mary Hubbard was gathering bunches at her home on East 10th street, the bunch on which she was standing came way, causing her to fall into a barrel wine cask. One of the girls liberated her arm from it.

Mr. H. T. Bannan entertained with a social party at her home on Ninth street.

Two or three boys, Hayes Gillett and Thomas Reynolds, were very much in evidence in the contest with the Manufacturers at Athletic park. Gillett showed that he was a slugger from the back by whaling out two pretty

THAT CAMPING TRIP

BY C. A. VOIGHT

Veteran of Civil War
Still Hale and Hearty

GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I feel twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier and twenty-five years stronger expresses what Taulie has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who is now living at 321 Walnut Street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Taulie. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me. When I started on Taulie I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up, I now weigh one hundred and thirty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could cut the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least."

"I never miss a chance of saving a good word for Taulie and I would like to urge the boys of the 'Sixties' who are not feeling right to give it a trial for I am sure it would put me in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing so good I can say for Taulie."

Taulie is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Kiwanians Enjoy Outing

Casting aside business worries members of the Kiwanis Club, 55 in number were carried back to their "kid" days when they enjoyed an outing at Popular Lodge, Rosemount Road as guests of Roger Selby yesterday afternoon and last night. They played many games they enjoyed many years ago and the picnic was a joyous affair.

Horseshoe Champion Davis was an invited guest and he entertained the Kiwanians with his skill as a horse shoe pitcher. He threw so many rings and with such apparent ease that his spectators became dizzy. Davis was accorded a great reception and responded by showing all his bag of tricks. He is a real champion in his line and his work is done in a modest and unassuming manner.

Gabe's Nine Stars and Roger Selby Life Preservers staged a ball game. That is it resembled a ball game. The players had lots of fun and limbered up some dormant muscles so they should worry. Various games were indulged in and the outing was a genuine success and Roger Selby was voted a clever and genial host.

At six o'clock the members enjoyed a chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

To Play McDermott

Sunday afternoon the Hilltop Stars of this city will play the McDermott nine on the village diamond. This will be the first time this season these two nines have met. The Hilltop Stars are recruiting several local players to use in their lineup against McDermott.

JACKSON COUNTY MAN GORED TO DEATH

While out milking, about 5 o'clock several evenings ago, Simon Harrison, aged 57, Jackson county, was attacked by a vicious bull, and was so terribly injured before his neighbors could rescue him that he died a few minutes later. The son of Mr. Harrison ran to his rescue with a rifle and shot at the bull but missed it, then Ed Cohen shot it several times before he finally killed it.

WILL GIVE SACRED SONG RECITAL

The music at the First Evangelical church next Sunday will be of exceptional merit at both services.

In the morning the choir will render a new anthem, "The Lord Reigneth", by T. D. Williams, with Fred Lorey as soloist, and Miss Mary Stephan, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. George Appel, will sing "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears", by F. Flaxington Barker. Miss Stephan has a sweet soprano voice and knows how to use it. She is a member of Christ Church choir at Cincinnati, and a pupil of Mr. Sterling.

In the evening, Irma Lindenmeyer and Clyde Knost will give a sacred song recital. The ability of these young people is so well known, comment seems unnecessary. It goes without saying a treat is in store for all who attend. The program will be published in tomorrow's paper. Both services will, of course, be on old time.

SHULTZ MAY JOIN THE OAKLEY TEAM

"Shorty" Shultz, the clever shortstop of Gabe's All Stars, may finish for his services. Shultz has the offer under consideration and will probably join the team on Sunday to talk the matter over and he will likely appear in the lineup in Sunday's game and also in two engagements on Labor Day.

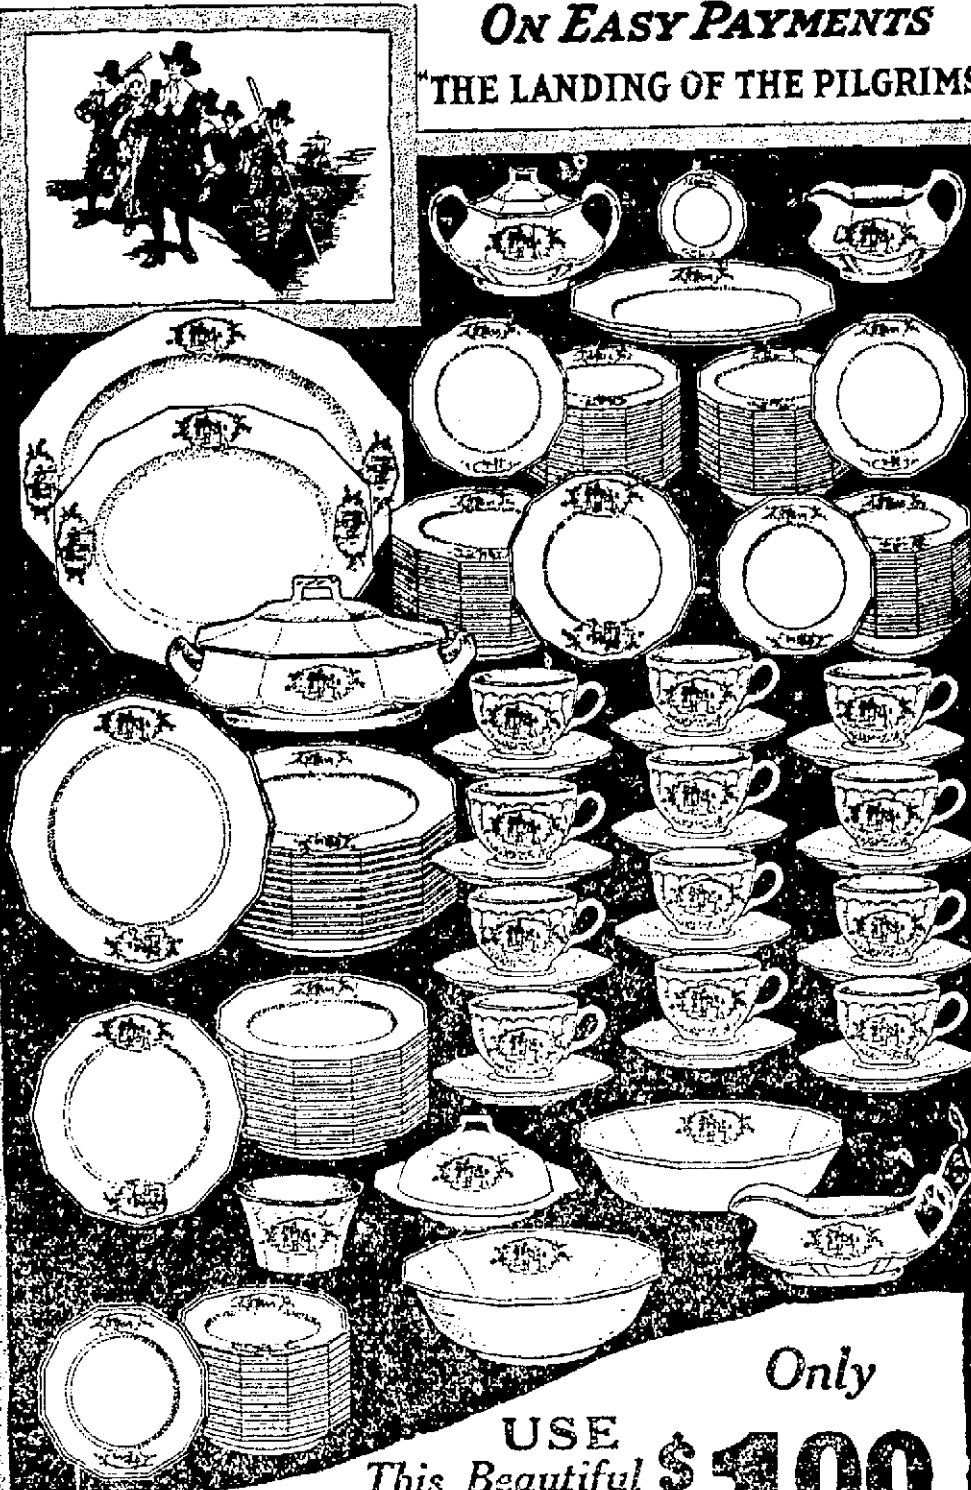

Shultz made a distinct "hit" with Manager Rorer and his players by his brilliant performance at the stadium in the two games the All Stars played the Oakleys at league park in the Queen City a few days ago and in which he expressed a desire to sign the local player.

Boston Braves May Play Here October 9

If present plans do not miscarry, the Boston Braves will appear here in an exhibition game with Gabe's All Stars on Sunday, October 9.

Manager Gableman announced Thursday that he had practically closed with the Boston management for the appearance of the team here on that date. Billy Southworth, former Portsmouth boy, is captain of the Braves and no doubt the popular ball player and his colleagues will be greeted by a tremendous throng of fans in event the game is looked.

CLOSE ONE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Lee Meadows blanked Boston, 1 to 0, in the first game of the final series here and the defeat put the Braves out of third place. Until his removal in the seventh inning for a pinch hitter, Morgan held the Phillies to four hits. Morgan, who succeeded him, did not allow a hit.
